

Survival Guide for the Remote Employee Communicating With the Global Workforce

Survival Guide for the Remote Employee

ADDRESSING THE NEEDS OF INDIVIDUAL PROFESSIONAL AS THEY SUCCEED IN THE GLOBAL CORPORATE ENVIRONMENT

Whether working from home, out-of-state, or out-of-the-country, today's workforce is dispersed. While this evolution is exciting, it incurs transitional changes that many organizations have not caught up with. Join Laura Lee Rose, business and efficiency coach, to discuss and resolve.

- Communicating remotely
- Conducting Effective Staff Meetings
- Forecasting Schedules Across Time Zones
- Managing Remote Employees
- Managing Remote Employers
- Staying Visible to Excel
- Building Rewarding Working Relationships
- Attracting High-Profile Projects and Clients

Participants receive: The Book of Answers: 105 Career Critical Situations (a $24,000 value)

“ Laura acts as a catalyst. She focuses on real problems and real solutions. Her classes offer practical and creative tips. ”

There are currently multiple (repeat) teleconference session dates to fit in various schedules. Additional repeat sessions will be added upon request. Email your requests to LauraRose@RoseCoaching.info

There are free tickets available to those willing to help organize. Contact LauraRose@RoseCoaching.info for details.

Otherwise Register Now at <https://remotecomunicationsolutions.eventbrite.com/>

Please email for a free career consultation >>>

Professional Development Consultation

www.LauraLeeRose.com
LauraRose@RoseCoaching.info